 ASL 762 Assessment Tool, March 23, 2018

In teaching Deafhood class, I find ASL reflection vlogs to be very useful and valid measurement of student's understanding of various topics presented in the class, and as a teacher, I am able to keep up with the student's feelings and thoughts as they progress throughout the semester. This is one specific ASL Reflection video assignment from Weeks 5+6. I provide brief feedback via English on BlackBoard Grades as well as follow up with ASL wash back with the entire class. I use ASL Reflection Journal rubric provided by Gallaudet's ASL and Deaf Studies department.

ASL Reflection Vlog -- this vlog will reflect your thinking and feeling journal. on DR. SANJAY GULATI's VIDEO PRESENTATION on Language Deprivation Syndrome. Briefly summarize (30 seconds max), then go through your thoughts and feelings. Share your reactions. Be honest and open as much as possible. You will be evaluated for quality of video, background and lighting as well as clear summary and your sharing process. You are ALLOWED and ENCOURAGED to DISAGREE with me! Your grade WILL NOT be affected because of this.

Your video must be uploaded to YouTube then EMBEDDED via "Write Submission"
Length: 2 Minutes with + or - 30 seconds (A range of 1:30 to 2:30 is acceptable)
Deadline: February 27, 2018 11:59 pm EST.
